DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 13, 1833.

☞Mr. Sutton, the Ventriloquist, performs this evening, at Concert Hall.—This, we are told, will be his last performance in this city.—Those who have not witnessed his truly surprizing exercises will be gratified by an attendance this evening.

The Warren Convention.—The meeting of the delegates from various counties in Pennsylvania and Ohio, at Warren, takes place this day, and, probably, before any remarks which we can make will reach them they will have accomplished the objects for which they are assembled. As, however, the Statesman and the Advocate, of this morning, have some remarks, in relation to it, we feel inclined to imitate their example.

The writer in the Advocate labors hard to show the superiority of a rail road for the proposed connection. He makes the most of the advantage which that mode of conveyance has in point of distance, but neglects to give the canal any credit for the greater cheapness of conveyance which it affords. If the difference, in this respect, is as great, in favor of the canal, as our Canal Commissioners represent it to be, the difference of distance is altogether immaterial. Fortunately, however, one of the delegates from Philadelphia is, we believe, an engineer of talents and experience, and fully able to decide upon the relative merits of the different routs.

The editor of the Statesman advocates, as we do, the northern rout; and, in his last paper, censures the citizens of Stark, Wayne, and Columbiana, for sending delegates to Warren. In this, we think, he is wrong. It is true, the call of the Convention at that place, was of the friends of that rout, and it is also known that the citizens of the counties of Columbiana, Starke, and Wayne, are hostile to it. If, however, the Convention should be composed only of those who go there as the decided friends of the Mahoning connection, those from Pittsburgh and Philadelphia would be excluded, because it is expressly stated, in the resolutions appointing them, that they are "to exercise a sound discretion in the choice of routs."—Besides, at a meeting of the Internal Improvement Society, held in this city some two or three weeks ago, a resolution was passed, inviting those counties to send delegates to confer with the Pennsylvania delegates. This was all right—we are glad that the invitation was given, and that it has been accepted.—We have, after much deliberation, made up our minds in favor of the northern rout; we believe that it is the best, possessed of the most abundant supply of water, and secures us greater advantages in a contest with New York for the trade of the great west—but we may be mistaken. We advocated this improvement eight years ago, and this early advocacy may create an imperceptible bias on our mind—therefore, we wish that the most thorough discussion of the merits of all the routs should take place before a decision is made.

We do most confidently believe that the Convention, or, at least, all the delegates from Pennsylvania, will finally decide in favor of the Mahoning rout, and, therefore, we desire a full examination; and, if they should decide differently, we will be satisfied—because we have confidence in their judgment.—We have no interest in this matter—we only wish that the best rout may be selected—and the more thorough the investigation, the more likely is the decision to be correct.

For the Gazette.

Mr. Craig—From the deep interest you take in promoting the welfare of the Manufacturer and Mechanic, I am induced to ask the publication of the following.

An article is going the rounds of the papers, relative to the loss of the Steam Boat Washington, on Lake Erie—in that article it is stated that, owing to her engines breaking, she became unmanageable; also, that they were of Pittsburgh manufacture.—I have anxiously looked for a contradiction of this statement and its imputation, but none has appeared—I feel bound, therefore, to state that the engines did not break until the boat had been three hours unmanageable; and it was then thought, by all on board, she would be lost—when they did break, it was no fault of the workmanship, but owing to the way the boilers stood on the guards.

J. V. GUTHRIE,
One of the Engineers.

For the Gazette.

Mr. Craig—Perhaps the following sketch, of the meteoric appearances of this morning, may have interest for some of your readers.—I rose about four o'clock—upon going into the open air, I was struck with the appearance of the Heavens, every part of which seemed to be filled with meteors. I supposed the phenomena was but momentary—to my surprize, the longer I continued to gaze, the more luminous they appeared. I remarked that they all came from one common center, and were propelled in every conceivable direction. It is difficult to give a conception of their appearance. If a thousand rockets can be conceived to have started from the same point, at the same instant, scattering blazing stars, and fiery serpents, in every direction, it may perhaps give some idea of this singular phenomena. At times it was, indeed, a shower of fire—the meteors seemed to fall to the earth, in all directions. Several appeared to light on an Engine Manufactory, in my immediate neighborhood; and many were not extinguished until they had passed into the yard, in the rear of the building. Having the Coal Hill in front, I could distinctly perceive thousands of these strange fires falling, at one time, between me and the hill, and apparently plunge into the river. To my view, this was so extraordinary, that I roused my family from their slumbers, to partake of my enjoyment and interest. So long as I continued out, these appearances were unabated—this was upwards of an hour. I observed, too, after the dawn of day, that the meteors were still passing through the atmosphere, although the light of the morning had dimmed their lustre.—The sky was uncommonly clear—the stars shone resplendently in the Heavens—the morning was calm, but cold, and the wind variable, but principally from the N. W. What struck me as somewhat singular in this phenomena, was, that the meteors all radiated from a common centre, and did not seem affected by the course of the wind.

Yours, C. S.

P. S.—I observe the wind has set in steadily from the N. W., and the atmosphere is uncommonly clear since day light. I should suppose this phenomena has some connection with the Aurora Borealis, as its appearance is uniformly the precursor of a N. W. wind, and cold, clear weather.

Extract of a letter, to a gentleman in this city, dated

"Louisville, Nov. 9, 1833.

"By the arrival of the S. B. Return, from New Orleans, we have this moment learned of the burning of the steam boat New Brunswick, near island 98, in the Mississippi, about 25 miles above Vicksburg—she had a fine load, coming up to St. Louis—no lives lost. We have not seen the captain, as yet, to ascertain the particulars; but understand the fire was first discovered aft, in the ladies' cabin, and as there were some fine furniture and chairs, wrapped in mats and straw, it is presumed it must have caught from a spark from the chimneys. We do not know whether the books and money were saved."

CORRESPONDENCE WITH CHIEF JUSTICE MARSHALL.

The following documents will sufficiently explain themselves.

In Antimasonic State Convention, Boston, September 13, 1833.

The Antimasonic State Convention, for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in Convention assembled, (composed of 460 citizens of the Commonwealth,) entertaining the highest respect for the elevated character and station of John Marshall, the venerable Chief Justice of the United States, and unwilling that his name should be publicly used as it has been and still is, by the Masonic press, and by the Masonic Society, to sustain their Institution against the good sense of the people of this Republic; and believing that he is opposed to that secret combination, and considers it ought to be entirely abolished, as a worthless association, and of a dangerous tendency—a belief which they found on the fact that he has not been in a Lodge but once for forty years, and upon the opinions he has expressed to individuals—deem it a duty they owe to him, to themselves, and to posterity, to respectfully address him, through a special Committee of this Convention, setting forth these views, and the manner in which he has been very recently represented by the official organ of Freemasonry in this Commonwealth, as having avowed that "Freemasonry is a jewel of the utmost value, that the pure in heart and life can alone appreciate it fully, and that, in a free Government, it must, it will be sustained and protected"—and to solicit from him such an expression of his opinions, on this subject, as will effectually prevent the name of the biographer of George Washington being used hereafter, as that of the illustrious father of his country has been, to sanction and sustain Freemasonry.

And this Convention desire also to inquire, through their Committee, whether, as the friend and biographer of Washington, Chief Justice Marshall has within his possession or recollection, any knowledge of any acts of General Washington, or any documents written by him to Masonic bodies. approving of Freemasonry.

Resolved, That the above be unanimously adopted, as the sense of this Convention, and that the officers of the Convention be a Committee to perform this service.

LETTER TO CHIEF JUSTICE MARSHALL.

Boston, Oct. 11, 1833.

Sir—The Antimasonic State Convention, which assembled on the 11th ult., at the State House, in Boston, appointed its officers a committee to carry into effect the Resolution, a copy of which we have now the honor to communicate to you.

Entertaining a profound respect for those eminent talents and virtues, which render your name an honor to any cause that can rightfully claim its support, the Convention saw, with regret, that name cited in strong commendation of Freemasonry; an institution which a very respectable portion of our citizens, represented by that Convention, believe to be unfriendly to the purity of our government, and the faithful execution of the laws. That citation appeared in the established organ of the Masonic fraternity in this Commonwealth, the Masonic Mirror, of August last, a copy of which we enclose.

We are perfectly aware of the strong and just repugnance of your feelings to a public avowal of your sentiments on any exciting subject; feelings which we cannot but respect, and which nothing could induce us to disturb, but a deep conviction that something is due to the sacred cause of truth. Believing that your name is now injuriously associated with error, and that so long as this association remains with even the tacit sanction of him who alone can speak authoritatively, that error will prove extremely mischievous, we appeal to that love of truth, which has so eminently distinguished your life, for the justification of the request, which, in the name of the Convention, we are instructed to tender. If the publication in the Mirror be indeed a record of truth, we shall not cease to lament that such is the fact. But if, on the other hand, as we confidently believe, the record is one of error, we earnestly request that we may be authorized, distinctly and publicly, to vindicate the cause of truth against so unfounded an allegation.

Confiding explicitly in the purity of purpose which will mark any determination of your judgment on the subject of this request, we offer to you the assurances of our cordial and profound respect. JOHN BAILEY,
President of the Convention.

Hon. John Marshall,
Chief Justice of the U. S.

JUDGE MARSHALL'S REPLY.

Richmond, Oct. 18, 1833.

Sir—Your letter, of the 11th, transmitting a resolution of the Antimasonic Convention of the State of Massachusetts, passed on the 13th of last September, has just reached me. The flattering terms in which that resolution is expressed, claim and receive my grateful acknowledgments.

The circumstances represented as attending the case of Morgan were heard with universal detestation, but produced no other excitement in this part of the United States, than is created by crimes of uncommon atrocity. Their operation on Masonry, whatever it might be, was silent—rather arresting its progress, and diverting attention from the society, than inducing any open, direct attack upon it. The agitations which convulse the North did not pass the Potomac. Consequently, an individual so much withdrawn from the world as myself—entering so little into the party conflicts of the day—could feel no motive, certainly I felt no inclination, to volunteer in a distant conflict, in which the wounds that might be received would not be soothed by the consoling reflection that he suffered in the performance of a necessary duty. I never did utter the words ascribed to me, nor any other words importing the sentiment they convey. I never did say—"Free masonry is a jewel of the utmost value; that the pure in heart and life can alone appreciate it fully, and that, in a free government, it must, it will, be sustained and protected." The fact mentioned in the resolution, that I have been in a lodge but once, so far as I can recollect, for nearly forty years, is evidence that I have no disposition to volunteer in this controversy, as the zealous partisan which this language would indicate. In fact I have sought to abstain from it.

Although I attach no importance to the opinions I may entertain respecting Masonry, yet I ought not to refuse, on application, to disavow any expressions which may be ascribed to me, that I never used. I have said that I always understood the oaths taken by a Mason as being subordinate to his obligations as a citizen to the laws, but have never affirmed that there was any positive good or ill in the institution itself.

The resolution also enquires "whether as the friend and biographer of Washington, I have in my possession or recollection, any knowledge of any acts of General Washington, or any documents written by him to masonic bodies approving of Masonry?"

The papers of General Washington were restored many years past, to my lamented friend, his nephew, and are now, I believe, in the possession of Mr. Sparks. I do not recollect any document among them respecting Masonry, nor do I recollect ever to have heard him utter a syllable on the subject. Such a document, however, not being of a character to make any impression at the time, may have passed from my memory.

With great respect, I am, Sir,
Your obed't. servt.
J. MARSHALL.

To John Bailey, Esq.

From the Maysville Eagle.

The Secretary of the Treasury.—The following letter, from Wm. J. Duane, Esq. late Secretary of the Treasury, to a gentleman of Mason County, Kentucky, has been handed to us for publication.

Philadelphia, Oct. 17, 1833.

Dear Sir:—I have just now received your letter of the 10th instant, expressing your approbation of my course as Secretary of the Treasury. I have always been, and am, apposed to the U. S. Bank, and to all such aristocratic monopolies; but, I considered the removal of the deposits unnecessary, unwise, vindictive, arbitrary, and unjust. I believed that the law gave to the Secretary of the Treasury, and not to the President, discretion on the question; and I would not act to oblige the President nor any body else, when I thought it improper to do so. I never asked office—I accepted it reluctantly, and was removed for an honest discharge of my duty. If to keep office and $6,000 a year, I had given up my judgment, I should have brought shame upon the gray hairs of my father, and upon my numerous children: so that I am content to return to humble life with a tranquil mind. * * * *

With kind wishes, I am,
very respectfully yours,
W. J. DUANE.

From the Baltimore Patriot, of November 9.

The following paragraph we find in the National Intelligencer of this morning. We have had "rumors" less likely to be well founded, than that which intimates that the present head of the treasury department finds difficulty in "getting along," while deprived of the facilities afforded by the Bank of the United States. But it is certain, as intimated in the conclusion of the paragraph—the great difficulty will only begin, after the public funds, now in the United States Bank, shall have been exhausted. We are curious to see how the new system will then be made to operate.—The Intelligencer says:

"There is a rumor in circulation, entitled to we do not know what credit, that the Secretary of the Treasury has apprized the President that he finds he cannot get along with his administration of the Finances, now that the Treasury is deprived of the services of the Bank of the United States.—It is even rumored that already the folly of the change in the Government deposits has become so apparent, that they are to be restored! Our readers will not understand us as vouching for the truth of these rumors, which come thick and fast one upon another. When we believe them, we shall plainly tell them so. For the present, we doubt whether the Treasury has yet had a taste of the quality of its new financial agents; it happening very fortunately for the Government, that there are funds still in the Bank of the United States to be drawn upon. When the time comes for drawing on the pet banks, we shall see how they will bear it, and how the Secretary of the Treasury will get along with them."

The general expectation of intelligent persons acquainted with the operation of our fiscal concerns, is, that the moneyed distress of the country bears every mark of the most unexampled embarrassment. The conduct of the Treasury Department in making large drafts on the United States Bank, in favor of the Deposit Banks, without giving any notice, affords the most conclusive evidence of the vindictiveness of the presidential hostility, while it proves satisfactorily that it becomes the duty of the Bank to make every prudent arrangement to contend with the anticipated efforts to produce its destruction. It has become absolutely necessary that its circulation should be immediately curtailed, which, in effect, will be to withdraw the metallic currency, and tend to embarrass the local institutions, if not to produce their stoppage of specie payments. The extraordinary course of the Government precludes the Bank from the exercise of any ordinary discretion. The whole community must be put on short allowances, not from the want of means, but in their capricious, injudicious, employment.

At a time of unexampled prosperity, the harvest never more abundant, from one section of the country to the other, and our commerce flattering the happiest results, we have, in obedience to the absolute will of a single individual, to mourn over the sad anticipation of unprecedented embarrassment, for the mere purpose of destroying an institution he cannot control, and having the independence to oppose his arbitrary dictation.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

Dr. Lewis F. Lynn, lately of St. Genevieve co., but now of St. Louis, has been appointed a Senator of the United States, for this State, in the place of the Hon. Alexander Buckner, deceased. This appointment will, we believe, be acceptable to the people of the State, not because there are not many other gentlemen more competent for the discharge of the duties of the office than Dr. Lynn, but that it is as good as the material in the hands of the governor permitted him to make. It is more doubtful how the party will relish this act of the governor; and the greater the discontent that shall be evinced by that many headed monster, the stronger will be our conviction that the governor has done wisely—for him. It is very certain that the personal ambition of certain other leaders of the party has been checked, and the wishes of their respective friends, or hangers on, disappointed. But the country will lose nothing by that.—St. Louis Times, Nov. 2.

American Almanac.—We have received, from Mr. Bowen, the number of this fine work for 1834—a volume of over 300 pages—containing an immense amount of the most useful, scientific, and popular information, judiciously condensed and selected, and constituting equally an agreeable book of winter evening perusal, and an almost indispensable reference in every house, shop, or office, where business is carried on. We notice, among other things, the completest account, probably, ever published in this country, of the Constitution of the British Parliament. We shall refer to the volume again.—Bost. Mer. Jour., Nov. 6.

The Grand Jury of Boston, in closing their recent term, remark that during the discharge of their duty it has become apparent the source of most of the crime which has come under their observation may be traced directly or indirectly to an excessive use of Ardent Spirits. They feel, therefore, constrained to present the present unlimited license system as a nusance that should be abated.

Boston, Nov. 7.

In the Circuit Court of the United States, a verdict was rendered yesterday morning, in favor of John Ames, against Howard and Lathrop, for $412 50, which tripled, as the law requires, is $1,237 50 damages. The action was brought by the plaintiff to establish the validity of a patent for the Cylinder Paper Machine, taken out in 1822, but surrendered and a new patent taken out in October, 1832. The amount involved at this trial, is not a matter of much moment, but the consequences to the paper, manufacturing interest, are of immense importance. We are informed that there are not less than five hundred of the machines in this country, and that unless the decision should be reversed in another action, the plaintiff will recover from the owners of the machines from $400,000 to $500,000! We also learn that the manufacturers have determined to contest this patent in another action, and that with this view, able counsel is retained, in addition to the counsel engaged in the case just decided.

The Commercial Herald gives the following account of the Rail Road from Bristol to Philadelphia:—

That part of the road between Bristol and Morrisville, about 10 miles is completed, with the exception of one or two small portions of the horse path, which will be finished this week. We understand the cars will be put on next Monday.

A quantity of lumber, we are informed, has been brought down the Delaware, and is now landing at Trenton, for the purpose of testing the expediency of M'Adamizing the Straight Turnpike, by making the horse paths of gravel or broken stone, and laying the wheel tracks with continuous lines of wood or heavy plank, embedded in the ground, level with the surface of the road. It is said this plan of improving roads is decidedly superior to the present Rail Roads, having regard to cost and comfort of traveling.

We are glad the experiment is about to be tried, as it will settle a question in which the public are highly interested.

Boston, Nov. 8.—In the Lectures which are now in course before the Massachusetts Historical Society at the Athenæum Hall, at seven o'clock every Monday evening, Mr. Sparks delivered a lecture last Monday evening on the treason of Benedict Arnold. This event in our history, has always been regarded as one of prominent interest, and is generally known as one of the revolutionary war. The accountable depravity of Arnold, and the fate of the gallant Andre, are remembered by every one who knows any thing of history. But from the common history of the country, one learns very little of the real causes, and motives, either of Arnold's or of Andre's conduct. Mr. Sparks, having sought information from all sources, has been enabled to present this remarkable story in lights entirely new, and to give to the whole series of events, the charm that one some times finds in works of brilliant imagination, tho' adhering closely to historical truth. He developed the whole plan, and even exhibited the very papers which were concealed on Andre's person, at the moment of his capture; and among them, the original pass in Arnold's hand writing. If the public knew how exceedingly interesting this lecture was, to a numerous audience, it would certainly attract a crowded room if it were repeated.

Men of the Revolution.—We last week saw, in this town, six brothers, the youngest over sixty years old. They had not been together before since the Revolutionary war. Four of them were out in the American service in that war.—Four of them lived in this county, and are well known here; the others in Massachusetts. They are all worthy and respected, hale and vigorous, enjoying a "green old age" the fruit of a temperate life, and a clean conscience. Their names are Craig;—Moses, Elias, Elijah, Jesse, Enoch, and David; and they have a sister in this town, widow of the late Lewis Hamlen, also over 60. These men of the Revolution are an iron race, unlike the pale dyspeptics, and chicken fisted dandies of the present day.—Augusta (Me.) Journal.

Iowa Circuit Court.—The annual term of this Court, his honor David Irvin presiding, adjourned on Saturday last, after a session of two weeks. The civil business, we understand, was all disposed of. Bills of indictment were found by the grand Jury against eight Winnebago Indians, for murders committed during the summer of 1832. The cases were continued, on motion of the U. S. Attorney. A motion to admit the defendants to bail, was overruled by the court. Daniel Le Roy, Esq. District Attorney of the U. States, for the territory, and C. S. Hempstead, Esq. counsel for the U. States; J. D. Doty, Esq. Attorney for the defendants.—Galenian, Oct. 25.

Mechanical Ingenuity.—M. Droz being at Madrid, he exhibited to the king of Spain a clock, upon which were figures of a shepherd, a dog, and a negro. The shepherd played six airs upon his flute, the dog in the meantime approaching and caressing him. The king expressed his admiration of this, when M. Droz replied that the gentleness of his dog was but the least of his good qualities. If, he added, your majesty will deign to touch one of the apples in the basket by the side of the shepherd, his dog will evince his fidelity also. The king did so, when the dog flew at his hand, and barked so loudly, that a living dog, which was in the room, gave tongue; and the courtiers, with the exception of the minister of marine, hastily left the room, not doubting but M. Droz was a sorcerer.—The king, who, of course, was in the secret, desired the minister of marine to ask the negro what o'clock it was. He did so, and obtained no answer—M. Droz informed him that, as the negro was ignorant of Spanish, the question should be asked in French. The Minister asked it accordingly, and the negro answered so much to the consternation of the minister, that he took flight, vowing it was the work of no one but the devil.—Agassiz's Journey.

A Man Devoured by Tigers.—It is stated that the keeper of the Tigers, belonging to the extensive menageric which was exhibited in this town a few months since, was torn to pieces, and literally eaten up by them a few days since, in a town near New Haven, Connecticut. He had been in the habit of entering their cage, and did so several times while they were here, at the evident hazard of his life. The day before he was killed, having entered their cage as usual, the tigers prevented his getting out for several hours, and he was only rescued by administering to them stupifying articles in their food. The following day, this fool hardy individual again entered their cage, when they fell upon him and instantly tore him to pieces.—Hamden Whig.

The History of the proceedings of the Hartford Convention, by the editor of the New York Daily Advertiser, is announced in that paper as being now in press, and to be published early in December.—Nat. Ga.

The Globe makes its friends of the Van Buren party, in this State, look very ridiculous. There is not a Van Buren print in Pennsylvania that does not abuse General M'Kean, and deprecate his election to the U. S. Senate. And, within the last week or so, the Globe, finding that it is impossible to prevent the election of the General, has taken a bold stand in his favor, in order that it may claim him after the election. The Van Buren presses of this State have been taken by surprize, by this course, and are at a loss to determine whether they should, Globe like, veer about, or whether they should continue their assaults upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth. They had better make a virtue of necessity, and come out for the General. Some of them are already preparing the way for such a somerset, by declaring that he is, and always has been opposed to the U. S. Bank. This story may do well enough to gull the marines, but the sailors wont believe it. We are satisfied with the General, and if the Van Buren men and M'Lean men are also satisfied, what a popular or politic man Gen. M'Kean must be.—Penn. Inquirer.

Internal Improvement.—North Carolina is up and doing. Measures are in progress for assembling an Internal Improvement Convention at Raleigh, the capital of the State, on the 25th of the present month, to suggest and deliberate upon the means of promoting public improvements and facilitating the communications between several points of the State.

Extracts from the Baltimore Prices Current, and Review of the Market, for the week ending Friday Evening, Nov. 8.

Coffee.—The market is without animation. The aggregate sales to the trade which have come to our knowledge, amount to about 1000 bags Rio, at 12 1-4, 12 1-2, 13 1-4 and 13 1-2, for old crop common to new crop strong green. Limited sales of Laguayra at 12 1-2 a 13 cents.

Cotton.—Sales of old Uplands at 15 1-2 cents. There is some inquiry for home consumption, but manufactusers seem unwilling to give the prices asked.

Feathers—Are brisk at 40 cents for prime Western.

Fish.—Early in the week about 200 bbls. Mackerel, comprising nearly all in first hands, were sold at $5 75 per bbl. for No. 2, and $4 12 1-2 for No. 3. The Market is now bare, and the article much inquired for. A lot of Herrings was received this week, and about 400 bbls. sold from the wharf at $4 12 1-2 per bbl., and a part of the balance from store at $4 25. The inspections of the week comprise 156 bbls. Mackerel, and 742 bbls. Herrings.

Howard Street Flour.—Sales from stores to a moderate extent have been very generally made at $5 68 1-4 per bbl. In one instance a parcel of 300 bbls. was sold at $5 62 1-2, and this morning a lot of 100 bbls. at $5 75 at 90 days, interest added. The fair wholesale store quotation appears to be the medium rate of $5 68 1-4. The wagon price is uniform at $5 50 per bbl.—the loads taken above that rate being too few in number to be reported.

Molasses—At auction, on Tuesday, 53 hhds. 1 tierce, and 11 bbls. Porto Rico were sold at 33 3-4 a 36 1-4 cents per gallon; on Thursday 20 hhds. Cuba, common, at 30 cents. By private contract we note a sale of good Antigua at 33 1-2 cents.

Provisions—We quote Mess Pork at $16 a $16 50 per bbl. and prime at $13. Sales of prime Beef at $8 50. We hear of no Western Bacon, hog round, in market. Sales of Baltimore Hams at 11 1-2 cts., and of Western at 9 1-2 cts. A lot of 100 kegs Western Lard was sold, yesterday, at 9 cts. The wagon price of Glades Butter is 16 cts. per lb. for No. 1; 13 cts. for No. 2; and 10 cts. for No. 3; sales from stores at 14 cts. for No. 2, and 11 c. for No. 3. A lot of 100 kegs Western Butter was sold, from store, this week, at 8 1-2 cts. The inspections comprise 221 bbls. Beef; 44 bbls. Pork; 582 kegs Butter; and 326 kegs Lard.

Sugars—At auction, on Tuesday, there were sold 100 hhds. Porto Rico, at $7 50 a $8 60; and 80 bbls. Porto Rico, at $9 05 a $9 25; 35 hhds. prime New Orleans at $8 35 a $9 30; and 108 hhds. Porto Rico, at $7 15 a $8 55. At auction, on Thursday, 270 hhds. New Orleans were sold at prices ranging from $6 95 a $8 50; also 24 bbls. Mauritius at $6 05.

Tobacco—The activity which prevailed in the Tobacco market, for the last two or three weeks, has subsided, and Maryland has been but little inquired for. The sales made since our last have been mostly at a slight decline on previous prices. The stock of Ohio is very small, and nothing of consequence doing in the article. We are advised of the sales of 80 hhds. Maryland at $4 a $7, according to quality. There is but little Ground Leaf selling; some small lots were taken at $5 50 a $7 50, and a few hhds., very superior, at $8.—The inspections of the week comprise 191 hhds. Maryland, and 38 hhds. Ohio—total 229 hhds.

Whiskey.—The price of hhds. has declined to 28 cents, at which rate moderate sales have been made within the last two days. The market, however, remains quite dull. The wagon price of bbls has ranged from 25 a 25 1-2 cents, exclusive of the barrel, (the latter price paid yesterday)—and sales of new bbls. have been made from stores at 29 a 30 cents. The inspections of the week comprise 90 hhds. and 875 bbls; of which 84 hhds. and 1 bbl. were received from the Susquehanna.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Franklin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjusting and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, of Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40

other lots, containing about 6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county—and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others—a soil rich and productive—the neighborhood abounding in coal—well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States—In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM. ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
